

Vegan News San Diego Contributor Agreement Form

This agreement specifies the understanding between Vegan News San Diego and the undersigned Contributor about the voluntary submission of written, visual, or other creative content for publication in the Vegan News San Diego newsletter/website, social media, and any associated media.

- 1. Contributions Are Voluntary. The Contributor understands and acknowledges that any submissions are voluntary and unpaid. The Contributor is not an employee or contractor of Vegan News San Diego and is not entitled to compensation or employment benefits.
- 2. Copyrights and Ownership of Content. The Contributor retains full ownership/copyright of their original work and may republish their work elsewhere. By submitting content to Vegan News San Diego, the Contributor grants Vegan News San Diego a non-exclusive, perpetual, worldwide, royalty-free license to publish, edit for length or clarity, and promote the content on any Vegan News San Diego platform, including but not limited to the Vegan News San Diego newsletter, website, social media, and any promotional materials. The copyright of the newsletter as a whole will be owned by Vegan News San Diego/Stephen White, specific copyright of submitted content remains with the Contributor.
- 3. Editorial Issues. Submitting content does not guarantee that the content will be published in the Vegan News San Diego newsletter or any associated platform. Vegan News San Diego reserves the right to review, edit, or decline any submission at its discretion. Any substantial changes will be reviewed with the Contributor prior to publication whenever possible. Minor edits to address grammar, typos, readability, or formatting may be made without prior approval.
- 4. Contributor Responsibilities. The Contributor confirms that any submitted content is original, does not infringe on others' copyrights, trademarks, or intellectual property rights, is not AI-generated, and does not contain plagiarized material. The Contributor understands that any opinions expressed in submitted content are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of Vegan News San Diego.
- 5. Indemnification. The Contributor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Vegan News San Diego, its owners, affiliates, and representatives from any and all claims, damages, losses, liabilities, and costs (including reasonable attorney's fees) arising out of or related to the Contributor's submitted content or any breach of this agreement.
- 6. Termination. Either party may end this voluntary relationship at any time.
- 7. Acknowledgment. By submitting content or signing this form, the Contributor acknowledges that they have read and understood this agreement, and agree to the terms outlined above.
